

Local dairy official sees dry milk bottle in near future

A disastrous federal milk importation policy is driving dairy farmers out of business under the weight of heavy and consistent losses and will eventually lead to a dry American milk bottle, a respected Canyon dairyman who is an official of the Associated Milk Producers, Inc., warned last week.

Louis Henders, who farms about five miles southeast of the city, warned in a News interview that the government's current policies will lead to American dependence on high-cost, low-quality foreign milk imports, placing the American family again in the position of facing possible international blackmail on the scale seen in the Arab oil embargo recently.

Henders, president of the Western Division of AMPI, said the effects of the government policy of allowing cheap subsidized foreign milk on domestic markets are already being felt as milk producers in the United States abandon their farms, broke and unskilled in other labor.

He predicts a worsening of the situation unless the government is forced to halt importation favors and allows the American producer to make an equitable profit on his dairy.

A report issued by a dairy researcher at Oklahoma State University in late August indicates the straits dairy producers find themselves in, according to Henders, whose operation near Canyon produces more milk per day than is consumed in Canyon.

The report itself, signed by Dr. Clifford H. Burton, extension dairy specialist at OSU, presents a bleak outlook for the dairy industry. The report is based on research Burton has conducted in costs and returns for the dairy industry since February of 1973.

The report, Henders says, speaks for itself and is only written proof of the kind of crisis the dairy industry faces — the kinds of difficult decisions dairy producers must face in the months ahead as they see their deficits in production increase.

"In the 21 years that I have worked closely with producers, they have never, even for a short term, experienced the financial crisis they have faced since June 1, 1974," Burton says in his report. "Producers are a rugged lot and giving up or admitting defeat is usually not in their thinking. Today, tomorrow, next week, next month or next year they will be forced to accept defeat if the present trend isn't reversed. We estimate a 15% net loss in producers during the next 12 months."

Computerized calculations by Burton on costs and returns for dairy farm operations bear out his pessimism.

The print-outs indicate that while costs have been rising for operations of dairy farms, return has dropped drastically to the dairyman. While from 1968-1973, the farmer could expect a return of $177.80 per cow for his time and investment, the figure has turned into a deficit rapidly. In June 1974, the return totaled only $10.62 per cow and in August, the return was projected to fall to a loss of $145.07 per cow.

What's caused the rapid deterioration in the return to the dairy farmer?

Henders places the blame on a government program to trade the American dairy farmer's future for agreements with foreign governments to stabilize the U.S. balance of trade.

Two reports issued by the federal government indicate the nature of the agreements, he says, and that nature is to reduce domestic production of milk and dairy products by 25 per cent as soon as possible. Alternatively the government is allowing foreign-subsidized, low quality dairy products to come into the American market where they sell for less in the marketplace — less in fact than they sell for in their countries of origin.

Faculty salaries top priority in WTSU's budget request

A budget which sets faculty salaries as the top priority for the next biennium funding will be sent to Austin this week by West Texas State University officials who hope legislators will okay a 13.6 percent salary hike for faculty in 1976 and a 6.8 percent hike in 1977.

The budget, formulated this summer by new financial vice president Hermas Miller along the guidelines he originated while on the Legislative Budget Board in Austin, must go to the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System by Wednesday. It will face scrutiny for approval by the university's board of regents in the Killgore Research Center.

On its way to the state legislature, the budget will be manipulated by the LBB, on which Miller served before coming to the university this summer, and lumped together with budget proposals from other state universities.

In addition to the upgrading of faculty salaries during this inflationary period, the budget also includes requests for special legislative appropriations for funding of a Physical Resources Research Institute to be located in the Killgore Research Center.

The budget requests are for funding for the fiscal years ending Aug. 31, 1976 and Aug. 31, 1977.

University President Lloyd I. Watkins said Friday the budget proposed for the university over the next biennium "has not been padded." Nor, he said, has the budget been cut to the bone.

"I could fight for anything in there," he said of the requests. Stressing the faculty and staff is the most important part of the institution, Watkins said he's proud of the fact that the required priorities for legislative funding place faculty salaries at the top of the list.

Miller said the budget requests seek a 13.6 percent salary raise for faculty in fiscal 1975-76 and a 6.8 percent hike in fiscal 1976-77.

In the current biennium, faculty members have received raises totalling a little over 10 percent.

"We hope the legislature will give us enough money to allow us to give more than that," Miller said.

Salaries for faculty and staff are the major portion of the budget requests now on their way to Austin. Salaries account for more than one-half — nearly three-fourths, in fact — of the budget expenditure request for 1975-76, Miller said.

Formulating the budget for the biennium has not been without its share of the usual headaches associated with inflation — headaches compounded by the problem of trying to forecast budget needs two years in advance.

The budget for the next two years of university operation is based primarily on the enrollment of the university for this past spring, the summer and this fall, an enrollment which might or might not remain stable for the next two years.

Much of the budget is prepared on the basis of formulas set down by the Coordinating Board and LBB. The formulas are based on the semester credit hours generated by the university. Last fall, while WTSU headcount enrollment was up over the previous year, the credit hour enrollment count was down. This fall, university officials are hoping that trend will be reversed.

Inflation has also been a major problem in concocting the budget request figures for the two-year period.

"The largest economic problem facing West Texas State University is inflation," a budget general statement says. "Skilled labor of all types is almost impossible to hire because of the rapid growth and new construction in Amarillo. The salaries paid by West Texas State University are below those of private industry and even below salaries located in the area . . . Faculty

Crime rises by 45 percent in first half of year here

Major crime — murders, rapes and robberies — passed Canyon by during 1973 and the first six months of 1974, but figures indicate lesser crimes have increased dramatically this year.

Figures compiled by the Canyon Police Department on crimes reported in 1973 show a decrease in lesser crimes over the previous year of 12 per cent.

The city did not maintain that decreasing percentage, however, in the first six months of 1974, when lesser crime occurrences soared by 45 per cent.

Lesser crimes include narcotics offenses, driving while intoxicated, possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages, assault, burglaries, thefts, breaking and entering, sodomy and drunk.

During the 12-month period ending Jan. 1, Canyon saw a dramatic decrease in the number of persons arrested for possession and consumption of the legal drinking age to 18 rather than 21. In 1972, the number of offenses for possession and consumption totalled 60 while the number dropped by 62 per cent to 23 in 1973.

Increases in criminal offenses were noted during 1973, however, for drunk, assaults, burglaries, thefts. The number of drunk offenses increased from 28 to 31 or 11 per cent. The number of assaults was up 18 per cent from 11 to 13, the number of burglaries rose from 18 to 19 for a 5 per cent jump and the number of thefts increased from 51 to 65 for a 27 per cent hike.

The first six months of 1974 have witnessed a 45 per cent jump in the number of criminal offenses of lesser crimes reported to police.

That figure includes a large increase in the number of burglaries, vandalism, auto thefts and larceny thefts reported.

Burglaries jumped from seven reported in the first six months of 1973 to 23 for the first six months of 1974, a jump of 229 per cent.

Larceny theft increased from 30 reported to 17 in 1974 for an increase of 57 per cent. The number of vandalism reported increased from two in the first six months of 1973 to 20 in the first half of 1974.

Virtually every category on the crime table was up for the first half of this year, except aggravated assaults, which saw a decrease from three reported in 1973 to none reported in the initial half of 1974.

WT regents to act on FAB bonds

Regents for West Texas State University will also take a giant step toward construction of a new Fine Arts Building for the campus during their meeting Thursday in Dallas.

Bids will be opened, tabulated and contracts awarded for the bond issue approved during the last meeting by regents to finance the construction project.

The bond issue is to total $1.5 million with other funding to come from private sources and university surplus funds.

The bonds will be retired from student service fees.

Already, regents have okayed hiring of an architect for the building, which will be located just east of the current Fine Arts Building behind the university complex, south on campus. The structure is expected to house new facilities for art, music, speech and drama.

Regents will also consider approval of a move of the old and historic T-Anchor Ranchhouse from its current location along U.S. 87 north of Canyon to the campus just north of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum annex.

The board of the museum has asked regent approval of the move, which would make the old ranchhouse the first outdoor exhibit for the museum.

Mrs. Strain, still fighting system, won't retire when she'd planned

Under normal circumstances, Mrs. Marguerite Strain, a city employee almost 30 years, would be on the last month of a long and fulfilling career.

She could retire Oct. 7. But, she won't.

Mrs. Strain, involved for the last two years in a fight over retirement benefits she claims are meted out in a discriminatory manner, says she doesn't plan to retire until some decision is reached on the equity and legality of the Texas Municipal Retirement System.

With 30 years of service and at the age of 65, Mrs. Strain feels she might enjoy retirement. But, her concern now is with the status of her complaint to the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and the effects that complaint could have for other women who work with the ultimate goal of receiving benefits from the TMRS.

Two years ago, Mrs. Strain filed a complaint with the federal agency alleging the City of Canyon and the TMRS discriminate against women in the method of distribution of retirement benefits. Her complaint centered on the admitted system of basing benefits on a mortality table which predicts that women will live five years longer than men on the average. Using that as a basis, the system figures benefits so that women must work five years longer than men to receive equal benefits upon retirement.

Last spring, the federal EEOC finally made a decision on Mrs. Strain's complaint and determined that the TMRS practice is discriminatory.

The system replied through its executive director, Dean Gorham, by calling on the EEOC to instigate a lawsuit to force them to change their way of figuring benefits.

The matter has been in limbo and apparently will remain so even after the possible retirement date of Mrs. Strain, who's afraid to retire for fear her case may be dropped.

"If I retire I'm afraid my case will be moot," she said. Nevertheless she's not optimistic about the outcome.

"I don't know whether I have a chance anyway," she said. "I'd like to encourage them (the EEOC) to go ahead and take this to the Justice Department, but I guess I'm not the one to decide that."

The next move is up to the EEOC office in San Antonio. City Manager George Louder, who notes that state law requires that if the city is a member of the TMRS it cannot withdraw its membership, said he received recently a phone call from an EEOC representative in San Antonio.

"They asked me when I could come to San Antonio (to talk about the case) and I told them they could come up here any time," he said.

Louder insists the TMRS must bear the brunt of the burden for its system because the city is an unwitting party to the system's benefit schedule.

But, the door to reconciliation may also be closed at TMRS, where Gorham has refused to discuss the complaint for reconciliation.

"TMRS has notified them they do not want to reconcile," Louder said. "They'll just go to court."

If the court action is forced, it could be years before Mrs. Strain feels she can retire with equal benefits.

Revival of defunct constitution spurs new interest for locals

Talk of revival of the defunct revised Texas constitution ruminated but undigested by state legislator-delegates last summer, a revival expected during the legislative session which convenes in January, has caused a concurrent revival of interest in the document among local officials, some of whom opposed sections of the revised effort.

In separate meetings at opposite ends of the state last week, local officials pored over proposals for legislation which will probably emerge for consideration by legislators when the session opens and re-opened closed chapters in the saga surrounding the failure by delegates to approve a new constitution for subsequent state voter okay.

County Judge Woody Pond, a prime mover in an effort by Texas law county judges to mold the Judiciary Article in the revision along traditional lines, was involved at mid-week in a session of the Panhandle County Judges and Commissioners Association in Amarillo, a group which is again concerned with constitutional revision.

City Manager George Louder left the city for Austin Friday where he was involved with a committee meeting for the Texas Municipal League concerned primarily with financial proposals which the League will push or oppose when the legislature convenes. There, too, the constitution was expected to draw renewed attention.

Pond said county judges and commissioners at the Amarillo sessions were told by State Sen. Max Sherman that current thinking among returning legislators is that the defunct constitutional revision will be broken up and submitted as constitutional amendments to the current basic document, or it is possible the Constitutional Revision Commission, which outlined a new document prior to the constitutional convention, may move to have its charter pushed through as an amendment.

With that in mind, the commissioners and judges discussed at some length their stand on the various aspects of the constitutional revision which will affect counties and the county level judiciary system.

"We discussed that if they try to cram it down our throats again, we'd be down there visiting with them," Pond said. Pond was a strong and vocal critic of the various articles included in the revision effort by the delegates last spring and he along with other friends of the same inclination earned their place in Convention President Price Daniel Jr., who vowed he'd like to run over the judges.

"If there's a need to, we'll be down there to talk to the legislators," Pond promised of the coming session. He voiced the unanimity of feeling of the delegates to last week's Amarillo meeting by saying those attending still feel county government should remain as it has since established under the current constitution of 1887.

In addition to talk of the constitution and its possible resurrection in January, the commissioners and judges also worried over possible bills to back or oppose during the upcoming legislative session.

Pond said several recommendations will be sent from the Panhandle body to the state association for consideration.

Louder, serving on the TML legislative finance committee, went to Austin Friday to sit down with other city managers and commissioners to eye TML proposals for legislation or opposition to legislation. The positions reflect the stand of (See DEFUNCT, Page 5)

Wheat planting begins on expected record acres

Wheat drills took to the fields early last week to begin planting what could be another record wheat crop in Randall County.

After record August rainfall, farmers waited only until fields were dry enough to enter and then began the tedious planting process on what could be a record number of acres.

County Agent John Brazzil said the number of acres could rival or surpass the number planted in wheat in 1972 for the crop harvested in spring 1973, a crop which brought $12 million into the county and which far surpassed any other wheat crop in the county's history.

Some areas of the county were still too wet at mid-week for tractors to begin planting, particularly areas around the Umbarger community in West Randall County where residents reported more than an inch of rain last weekend.

Current operations for planting center on dryland wheat with irrigated farmers still preparing their seedbeds for the planting of their crops.

But, both crops will be fully in the ground by the end of the month and farmers will turn their attention to the harvest of what could turn out to be a fair grain sorghum crop.

The moisture situation for wheat planting is termed "excellent" by Brazzil, a far cry from the dry conditions which plagued farmers beginning in August 1973 and continuing through July 1974. The bulk of Randall County wheat farmers declared much of their spring crops a loss and signed up for disaster relief payments through the federal government earlier this year.

If the moisture which is available at planting time is made available throughout the growing season, the county could again rank in the top 10 or 15 in agricultural production in the state next year.

Brazzil said he believes between 150,000 and 200,000 acres of wheat will be planted this fall and he expects the total to come closer to the latter figure.

"It will probably be on the high side this year because of the moisture and the land not put into summer crops because of the dryness," he said. "Some of this cropland is available. We could seed more acres than we did in 1972-73 wheat-growing season, when we had probably the biggest crop Randall County has ever produced."

While prospects for a good wheat crop provide an early smile for farmers, many are still worried by the drought-damaged sorghum crop which is still maturing in many Randall (See WHEAT, Page 5)

Our World

Obey God's Laws

By ANN BROWN

At last! A few authorities who are in position to do something about it, are becoming alarmed about the crime wave inundating America. The "radical" conservative minority has been ringing the alarm bell ever since the permissive era began.

Recently a play on television had its setting in the United Nations Building relative to World War III. The representatives tensely awaited the battle that seemed inevitable.

Before the war began, the most powerful nations called a four-hour truce to consult a computer on the possibility of peace.

The inventor insisted the machine could solve the national differences if it were programmed with man's greatest wisdom.

The statesmen, educators, poets, theologians, and philosophers all poured in their wisest counsel. Finally, with bated breath, the button was pushed for the computer's decision.

The inventor read the combined wisdom of the greatest modern sages. The only deterrent to world suicide, said the objective machine, was to obey the laws of God.

When man disobeys his Creator, he is certain to get into trouble. The laws of the universe are rigid. The sun rises and sets on an exact schedule. The sun is man's servant. Would God be less concerned about His crowning creation?

God gave specific and detailed directions to preserve order and promote human welfare.

All murderers were to be put to death. Thieves and robbers were commanded to restore double the value of the goods taken. In the case of livestock, it was even more. Four sheep must be returned for a sheep, and five oxen for an ox.

Any man who killed a thief caught in the act was not to be punished.

But God's laws have been replaced by a social gospel that is far more concerned for the criminal than for his victim.

And the result?

U.S. Attorney General William Saxbe says unless the trend toward increasing crime can be reversed, a national police force may become mandatory.

(Remember it was rampant crime that brought Hitler to power.)

Amarillo Police Chief Paul Hulsey says America is losing its war on crime. He reports 78 percent of local burglaries, 74 percent of the thefts, 72 percent of the car thefts, and 47 percent of the robberies are unsolved.

With odds like that, crime must be quite profitable. And as long as it is profitable, crime will flourish.

One Amarillo store owner who dared fight back at the thugs who robbed him has been firebombed and threatened until he closed his business in fear for his life.

Chief Hulsey's proposed solution to the crime wave is to "stop coddling criminals."

The best surgeons do not hesitate to cut off a member of a patient's body if it is the only way to eliminate a malignant growth.

Any time we ignore the laws of God, whether it is on a personal or national basis, we can expect to pay the penalty.

Man may be foolish enough to coddle criminals; God is not.

Statistics reveal 70 percent of all crimes are perpetrated by repeaters.

Executed murderers never kill again.

And if thieves and robbers knew they would likely be killed if caught in the act, and would certainly have to pay at least double the value of the goods they stole, how many young people would elect to make a career of stealing?

Man is constantly attempting to improve on God's laws. In what area has he been successful?

Dowlen Injured In Car Accident

Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen escaped serious injury about 10 p.m. Friday when he was involved in a one-car turn-over on FM 1541 east of Canyon.

Dowlen was returning home from a two-day trip to Austin to attend a state Attorney General's Conference when his car experienced a blow-out on a rear tire.

The car veered out of control off the road and overturned, pinning Dowlen inside the vehicle.

Canyon firemen, using acetylene equipment, cut the doors to allow Dowlen to be removed from the overturned car.

He was taken to Neblett Hospital where he was treated and later released. He suffered a broken collar bone in the accident.

Bob and Lil Chambers visited with relatives at White River Lake recently.

Sore Throat Gives Clues To White House Mystery

By CARROLL WILSON
(Editor's Note: The following special investigative article was comprised by The News after a tip from a high-level source in Washington.)

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A respected high-level source confirmed this week here the breakfasts prepared on a daily basis by President Ford for his own consumption involve the makings of a scandal which could rival the woes of his predecessor in the White House.

The source, identified only with the pseudonym "Sore Throat," confirmed the President has dined in his White House breakfasts on English muffins, poached eggs, Florida orange juice, bacon, coffee with sugar and cream — all prepared on a gas stove.

Revelation of the Presidential breakfast menu has touched off a storm of protest and calls for investigations from Congressional committees.

"Who poached the eggs and from where were they poached?" a New York Times editorial asked at week's end. The origin of the eggs touched off a raft of speculation among top Congressional officials.

"I understand," Sen. Edward Kennedy (D-Mass.) told The News, "that a Michigan chicken farmer has gone on record as saying he's missing more than a dozen eggs from his prime laying chickens. He definitely implicates the President. It's a national disgrace."

Sen. William Proxmire (D-Ore.) read into the Congressional Record the results of a privately-financed and undertaken investigation into the poached egg scandal.

"I have reason to believe, after an exhaustive study by my staff, that United States servicemen who are forced to work as indentured servants to White House Chief of Staff Alexander Haig, a four-star general, were involved in a scheme to obtain Michigan eggs for the President," he states.

Sen. George McGovern, defeated candidate for the Presidency in 1972, pressed a private investigation even further.

"My investigation reveals that the housecoat Mr. Ford has worn while being photographed by correspondents in the White House kitchen was originally obtained in Pawnee, Okla., but subsequently laundered in Mexico before being sent to the White House," he charged.

The American Bakers Association, headquartered in Washington, issued a statement calling for a full investigation into the President's consumption of English Muffins in the wake of the scandal revelations.

"We suspect," a spokesman for the ABA said, "The President accepted a gift of the English Muffins from a representative of the English Muffin Bakers Union in exchange for a change in policy on the importation of that country's products into the United States, a change which will put millions of domestic bakers out of business."

Texas citrus growers were on the verge of filing suit against the President at week's end in connection with Mr. Ford's consumption of Florida orange juice.

A Growers' spokesman charged that the President was engaged in unfair promotion of a product by displaying prominently the Florida Orange Juice can before the nation's television cameras one morning last week in his kitchen.

The Growers intimated the nation's highest office-holder was involved in taking pay-offs from Florida citrus growers to push their products in the news media.

Other complaints were aired by the American Beef Producers, who claimed Presidential involvement in a scheme to raise the esteem of bacon in the eyes of the American people in trade for political favors; from the American Teasip Association, charging the President with promotion of coffee, shown recently by researchers to cause cancer in rats; and by a handful of Florida-based Cuban exiles, charging the sugar consumed by the President with his coffee was a gift from Cuban Dictator Fidel Castro in exchange for renewed diplomatic relationships with his country.

Another major scandal broke at press time when The News learned from Source Throat that the President's breakfasts have gone unreported on his census report forms filed in 1950, 1960 and 1970.

On those forms, The News learned, the President did not claim to eat breakfast on a daily basis and never mentioned he fixed his own breakfast.

Penalty for falsifying information on the census data form is forced listening to old Kennedy campaign speeches.

The Roscoe Richardsons and Ricky Richardsons spent the holiday week end at Eagle Nest, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Higdon had their daughter, Dorothy, visiting last week end. Dorothy and husband, Curtis Crowell, were here from their home in Arlington.

"A STITCH IN TIME"

Today, people are searching more than ever for happiness. Only in many cases to be met with overpowering sadness. Freedom to do completely as one chooses, many times results in fear, hate, loss of self respect and respect of others. Freedom in love, with anyone, anytime, anywhere, often causes unwanted pregnancies, broken homes, unhappiness. Many turn to false help such as drugs, alcohol, abortions, and then must steal or kill to support their "freedom habit." Why not try keeping God's ten! One could go far in the right direction.

"We need God. He does not need us."

Nursing Students Receive WT Caps

Ninety-seven West Texas State University junior nursing students are now able to wear the symbol of their academic affiliation with pride after receiving their Department of Nursing caps in a special convocation Friday.

A maroon and white band underneath a flat, ruffled edge crown distinguishes the WTSU nurse.

This cap identifies what kind of where you received your education," Dr. Aslakson noted. "A nurse wears it throughout her career."

"We have the ceremony to recognize the work the junior students have done, and their advancement to upper division nursing," Dr. Aslakson concluded.

Ministerial Alliance Plans Meeting

The Canyon Ministerial Alliance will meet Tuesday, September 17 for their first meeting of the fall of 1974 at 12 noon in the gold room of the WTSU cafeteria.

During the luncheon, members will discuss the recommendation of a teacher for the Old Testament course which will be taught at Canyon High School during the second quarter this year.

"Social Welfare-Local and Otherwise" will be presented by David Melber, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran Church and president of the local ministerial alliance. Pastor Melber will give a brief look at welfare across the country and specifically welfare in Canyon.

The group will also discuss policy for the alliance.

WTSU Senior Takes Insurance Stipend

Jeff Edmond, West Texas State University management senior, has been awarded a $300 scholarship from the Property and Casualty Insurance Fund.

This scholarship was awarded for the first time this year from donations given by the Panhandle Claim Men's Association of Insurance Agents.

Edmond is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Edmond of 211 W. Shuster, El Paso. He was selected for his "scholarship and his interest in the insurance business," according to Mrs. Leslie Pray, assistant professor of business. Edmond has also been active in campus events, and now serves as a dorm advisor.

"All these organizations are concerned with professionalism in the insurance industry," Mrs. Pray said. "The Amarillo Association of Insurance Agents has an apprentice arrangement with us."

"These organizations encourage education for people in the industry," Mrs. Pray continued, and "encourage people in education to come into the industry."

Kiker's Relative Shot In Automobile At Stephenville

Luther Kiker of 1703 8th Avenue, Canyon received word this week from his sister about his cousin's son, Eugene Campbell, who was injured when shot from a passing car during the recent convict-slayer episode near Stephenville, Texas.

Eugene and his wife, Dena, accompanied by another couple had been to Mingo to the Steak House for an evening out honoring the Campbell's anniversary and were accosted by the gunmen in a passing car enroute home. The Campbells make their home eight miles west of Stephenville on a homestead plot of Mr. Kiker's grandfather.

After the gunmen shot into the Campbell car, Mr. Campbell was taken to a hospital there and required surgery for the gunshot wound as well as removal of glass. Mrs. Campbell and the couple with them also required hospital treatment for removal of glass splinters. All have now been released from the hospital although Mr. Campbell may require additional muscular surgery later, according to the letter received by Mr. Kiker from his sister, Marie Fowler of Crosbyton.

Troop 31 Plans 4-F Night Monday

Boy Scout Troop 31 will host a 4-F night on Monday, September 9, at fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church in Canyon according to Scoutmaster Shug Bonds.

The 4-F's stand for "fun-food-films and fellowship and the meeting will kick off with a hamburger supper for all troop members and prospective scouts ages 10 1/2 through 18 years. The supper will begin at 7 p.m.

Scout parents and parents of prospective scouts are urged to attend the film and fellowship meeting to begin at 7:30 p.m. in fellowship hall. A number of slides relating to the troop's summer camping activities will be shown as well as an introductory movie on the overall scouting program.

The meeting will be concluded with a demonstration on camping in preparation for an overnight troop campout to be held next week end (September 12-13) in Sunday Canyon.

Dairy...

Primary exporters of dairy products to the United States are France and Canada, where milk prices to consumers are high. Hinderers said. But, France and Canada subsidize exporters who can then flood the American market with cheap dairy products and force the price of American dairy products down currently.

Federal action to allow such importation is spawned, Hinderers says, by the desire to export feed grains in large quantities to the exporting countries, a deal which will eventually do in this country's dairy farmer.

Likewise, the government has been given support in its effort to artificially cap the price of dairy products here through importation of subsidized milk by various consumer groups, irked by the rising costs.

The problem then is simple: The American dairy farmer, like the housewife, finds his costs of production skyrocketing. But, he cannot obtain more money for his product to make up for the rising production costs because of the artificial restraint of subsidized imported milk.

Hinderers dates the flood as June 1, when the AMPI found itself financially unable to continue to purchase large quantities of the imported milk for resale at American prices.

Burton sees dangerous parallels between the recent energy crisis and the resulting attitude of the Arabs to hold back on oil exportation to this country.

"When the cow goes dry will the United States of America have another energy crisis?" he asks. "We in the United States of America enjoyed the cheap fuel from foreign origin while we lived on false security and did little to promote our own energy supply. When our wells ran dry, the Arabs came to life and made us walk the chalk line. Today, we live in much the same way depending on foreign imports of meat and milk products while our own cows are going dry. Cows on dairy farms in the Southwest are going dry at the rate of $145 or more per cow annually. The question becomes Texas cities on issues which would affect cities and their operation.

Bills which would affect the financial operations of cities and other municipalities are extremely important, Louder said, because the legislation could impact on cities' abilities to finance growth and continuing services to residents.

Already, the TML and the finance committee on which Louder serves, know that several proposals are in the mill which could have just such impact.

Louder points to the probability that several proposals will crop up in legislation calling for property tax reform. In fact, Louder said, the TML anticipates as many as 16 bills on reform of the ad valorem tax, bills which could call for such things as further tax exemptions.

salaries are a particular problem. Our average salaries have consistently been lower than those of most other universities, while our faculty members are required to teach a full load, and the student-faculty ratio is at a substantial level."

The statement continues: "The budget requests in all instances have been kept to the absolute minimum... In order to fulfill the obligation of the university to the people of Texas, it is essential that adequate funding be made available during the next biennium."

Wresting with inflation in the budget has been a "tough" problem for Miller, who said the only curative measure is "to hope you've asked for enough to give the salary increases we need to give to keep up with inflation."

now, belonged to the Randall County Historical Survey Committee until they voted unanimously during the summer to transfer the house to the museum for display purposes.

Dr. James Hanson, museum director, has said the house will be restored and refurbished and will be open to visitors. It will be set on campus along with an old Eclipse windmill donated to the museum by Potter County and a portion of the corral wall from Fort Bascom in New Mexico.

Regents are expected to give a tentative nod to acceptance of a 16.6 acre tract of land adjacent the Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo for possible university use for classroom facilities in that city.

A note to regents in the prepared agenda notes that the tract has been declared surplus property by the Government Services Agency of the federal government and the university is working with Congressman Bob Price to have the land deeded to WTSU.

Currently, the university is operating more than two dozen extension classes in Amarillo at facilities of the Amarillo School District.

The agenda says university officials "feel it would be advantageous for West Texas State University to acquire this land as a possible site for our future teaching facilities."

'Dying' Seminar Topic

"Death and Dying" will be the subject of Rev. Terry P. White, minister of the First Christian Church of Canyon, when he addresses a seminar session at Amarillo College Tuesday, Sept. 10.

County fields.

The sorghum crop, Brazzil says, is of variable quality and quantity depending on the location of the field and the amount of rainfall it received.

Some fields in the south and east portion of the county received virtually no rain during the past year and were not helped by the August showers.

Some farmers failed to plant any sorghum due to a lack of soil moisture.

"Prospects are better after the rains and production could be good on some acreage," Brazzil said. "But, we did have some hail damage."

When eyed as a whole, the crop will reflect both the moisture available to some areas and the hail damage and lack of moisture in others, he said.

Sorghum harvest will begin in late September and go through October in the county.

Mrs. Andrew Arvid Gerdin
nee Lori Lee Ingram

Miss Ingram Marries Gerdin In Morning Vows September 7

Joseph Hill Chapel on the campus of West Texas State University was the setting for the morning marriage of Miss Lori Lee Ingram and Andrew Arvid Gerdin Saturday.

Wedding Vows Are Solemnized For Couple Here

Wedding ceremonies for Miss Susan Lea LaGrone and Ricky Moldenhauer were read at the Chapel of the Methodist Center on the campus of West Texas State University recently.

Dr. Hubert Thomson of the First United Methodist Church in Canyon read the service. Attending the couple were Mrs. Linda Moldenhauer as the matron of honor and Jerry Moldenhauer as best man.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bulman, Jr. and Mrs. George Bulman, Jr. and Mrs. C. B. LaGrone. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Moldenhauer.

The newlywed couple is presently making their home in Amarillo.

September 7.

The bride is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Richard A. Ingram of 103 Andrews Drive, Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock, Texas. She received her degree in elementary education at West Texas State University in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph G. Gerdin of 3500 Diamond in El Paso are parents of the bridegroom who is a senior industrial distribution major at West Texas State University slated to receive his degree in May 1975.

Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Leonard Kelley of Reese Air Force Base Chapel officiated at the single ring ceremony which was followed with a wedding breakfast at the Buffalo Room of West Texas State University.

Attending the couple were bridesmaids, Jorjan Ingram and Dianna Marshall, and groomsmen, Jay Peel and Dean Garrison.

Following a wedding trip to Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico the couple will make their residence at 2612 Second Avenue in Canyon.

New 'Embassy Club' Uniformed To Welcome Visitors In Joint Effort Of Women's Division And Chamber

By LORENA MILLER

The Embassy Club is a new joint effort of the women's division and the regular Canyon Chamber of Commerce as the new year begins. The club is a segment of both regular Chambers which will serve as an official welcoming committee for the community.

Thirty-five Canyon women are presently being uniformed in maroon and white outfits for the service group of the Women's Division of the Chamber under the leadership of member, Ruth Prichard. Larry Hooper is the men's division chamber chairman for the new group and John Childs is president for the chamber here.

Women's Chamber Doubles Membership In Past Year

Under the guidance of Evelyn Trice, president, the Canyon Chamber's women's division this past year reached their goal of doubling membership and presently lists about 85 active members.

Organized in the early 1970s the women's division of the chamber has continued to grow largely due to the efforts of current members. In last year's membership campaign, Mrs. A. K. Goodman and Mrs. Randy Buttrill, were especially instrumental in signing up new members for the group.

The women's division meets again October 1 to continue the current year of city promotion. The division regularly meets on the first Tuesday of alternating months and its membership consists of homemakers, working women and all interested women in the community are invited to participate. Membership fee is $12 annually.

A major project for the women's division is planning and arranging decorations for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet held each spring. "The banquet is the first major project for the new president and her committees," stated Mrs. Trice.

The women's division of the chamber uses their financial assets strictly for promotion of city projects and their own goals. This past year, the group held a mum sale to promote the use of maroon and white in city yards.

Plans are to continue the promotion of West Texas State University and its Operation Facelift another year through the sale and planting of mums.

City Beautification Major Project Goal

Beautifying the city is a major role of the women's division in their beautification committee which last year worked with Canyon Girl Scouts in planting pecan trees to be spaced throughout the city. Presently, according to Mrs. Trice, there are about 75 pecan tree seedlings growing in the city from this project.

The committee is also working with the Texas Highway Department and state in gaining trees to be planted on access roads to the city for windbreak use and beautification.

Celebration Help For 'Canyon Days'

Working alongside the regular chamber, the women's division will be instrumental in the planning for the 1975 Canyon Day's Celebration. Mrs. Trice said that the special summer celebration plans are being made for "Miss Canyon" to serve as official hostess for beauties from various cities across the area as they participate in the parade and events this coming year.

Community Activities On 1975 Calendar Here

Another project of the women's division is the community "social calendar" being planned to be placed at the Chamber of Commerce each month during 1975. The calendar will list meetings for various organizations, church groups and school events and will be artistic as well as functional.

"We are hoping that the calendar will be a benefit to all community residents and will be available at all times for their viewing in the chamber window," said Mrs. Trice. The calendar will begin in January 1975 and those clubs and groups desiring to have their meetings listed should begin making arrangements with the women's division.

"It is hoped that some of our area artists will put on display some of their art alongside the calendar each month," concluded Mrs. Trice on the project.

A current project is the assimilation of a scrapbook and permanent record file on business meetings to be placed at the chamber offices. The project is being handled by Gerri Halbert.

Another special project currently being worked on by a committee within the women's division of the chamber is a display of costumes, music and instruments showing the development of fine arts and West Texas State University through the years. Plans are to have the various collected items on display in a special niche at the museum on campus when the project is completed.

Canyon Capers Dance At Activity Center

Canyon Capers Square Dance Club members danced Monday night to the calling of Knox Day with guest couples attending from the Khiva Squares of Amarillo.

Area square dancers and others are invited to any of the weekly meetings held at the Activities Center on the campus of West Texas State University each Monday evening at 8 p.m.

Mrs. James Dennis Tilger
nee Mary Margaret Washington

Mary Washington-James Tilger United In Marriage Ceremonies

Miss Mary Margaret Washington and James Dennis Tilger were united in double ring marriage vows August 24 at the First Christian Church in Pampa with Rev. Ralph T. Palmer officiating.

Miss Washington is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Washington, Jr. of Pampa. She is a graduate of Pampa High School and completed a two year secretarial course at West Texas State University. She is employed with Neblett Clinic in Canyon as receptionist.

Mrs. Carolyn Tilger of Canyon and B. J. Tilger of Amarillo are parents of the bridegroom. He graduated from Canyon High School and is a senior biology and premedical major at West Texas State University. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity and the honoraries, Beta Beta Beta, Mary E. Hudspeith Honor Society, Alpha Chi, and is listed on the Dean's Honor Roll. He is also a member of the American Chemical Society and is employed with Big Texan in Amarillo.

Wedding vows were performed before a background of gold rainbow candelabra entwined with salal foliage holding tall yellow tapers. Tall urns of mixed yellow flowers flanked the wedding party and the bridal aisle was lit with tall candelabrum draped with green foliage bearing yellow tapers covered with hurricane globes. The ceremony included a memory candle service where the couple lit the memory candle and their mothers completed the service by lighting a circle of candles around the memory candle. The altar setting included a prayer kneeling bench.

The Wedding Song, More and The Lord's Prayer were presented in the marriage ceremony with Barry Stevens as soloist and Mrs. John Gill at the organ.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Greg Dalton of Oklahoma City, a sister of the bride. Other bridal attendants were Mrs. Jim Rogers of Canyon and Miss Judy Imel of Pampa.

Larry Tilger of Dallas attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Mike Tilger of Canyon, a brother of the bridegroom, and Charles Smith of Canyon.

Candlelighters were Miss Pattie Sims and Miss Teresa Sims, both of Pampa. Ushers were Jeff Shepic of Canyon and Steve Stark of Amarillo.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length wedding gown of sheer organza and Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta designed with high Mandarin neckline, an empire waist effect and long Bishop sleeves. The semi-A-line silhouette skirt featured a full back which ended in a sweeping chapel length train. Inserts of Chantilly lace enhanced the neckline, bodice and skirt of the wedding gown with miniature sequins complementing the lace accented bodice. Her chapel length wedding veil was imported illusion with a border of matching lace held to a coil of lace and satin.

Miss Patricia Tilger, sister of the bridegroom, from Canyon was at the guest register for the reception held in the church parlor. Serving at the reception were Miss Cheri Buzzard and Mrs. Dave Callison, both of Pampa, who served at the punch bowl and Miss Diane Urban of Perryton who served cake.

The wedding cake was an arrangement of four small cakes on a revolving stand with three tiers revolving above. Cherubs decorated the spice cakes which were accented with garlands and hung with yellow rosebuds. Angels with harps were arranged amid the garden of roses on the small cakes.

Following the wedding reception the bride changed to a three piece pantsuit of baby blue pin-striped double knit for travel to Fountainhead Lodge in Oklahoma.

News Brief

Miss Cindi Kuhlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kuhlman of Canyon, is presently vacationing in Europe. Miss Kuhlman left Labor Day for the six week tour abroad.

Junior Forum Involvement Aids Public Schools Here

"We are looking forward to fall and the benefit we can give the Canyon Public Schools after a year's experience," said Mrs. Gene Glazener, president of the Canyon Junior Forum.

"The Junior Forum will remain basically the same this year and we will continue to provide our help to the school nurse and librarians in any capacity that they feel would be the most help," continued Mrs. Glazener.

Plans are being discussed for two proposals on membership drive time, according to the president. The first proposal will concern the scheduling of working hours for members and the second change would be a fall rather than spring membership drive for new members.

Miscellaneous Bridal Event Honors Miss Hanson In City

Miss Joyce Lynn Hanson was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Tuesday evening, September 3, at the home of Mrs. George Ritter, 2425 15 Avenue, Canyon.

Miss Hanson is the bride-elect of Cecil Curtis O'Donald of Canyon and plans are being made for the September 14 marriage.

Receiving guests with Miss Hanson and Mrs. Ritter were Mrs. Walter Hanson of Muleshoe, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Cecil O'Donald, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

The refreshment table was laid with a pink satin cloth with a pink net overlay and the floral centerpiece carried out the bride-elect's chosen colors of pink and white. Serving at the table were Jeannie O'Donald, sister of the prospective bridegroom, and Elaine Hanson, sister of the bride-elect.

Assisting with hostess duties were Mesdames Art Roberts, W. A. "Bill" Wilson, Durward Brown, Crosby Hammons, Elmer Clement, Tom Platt, Bill Hicks, J. T. Woods, Newton Richardson, O. W. Parker, Jr., Martha Goodman, Juanita Ziegler, Christine Rossi and Besie Samuelson.

Tierra Blanca Secretaries Represent Business

The Tierra Blanca Chapter of National Secretaries Association, International includes a membership list of working women from both Canyon and Hereford. At this time there are 24 members representing a cross-section of the business world in the Canyon-Hereford-Amarillo business world.

Secretaries working in education, retail business, government, legal and medical fields and agriculture-related businesses are involved in the local chapter. The job responsibilities of the members include a variety of roles: accounting, payroll, communications, public utilities and others which bring to the local chapter the benefit of many years' experience.

Chapter meetings are held on the fourth Thursday of each month at the First National Bank in Canyon at 7:30 p.m. The meetings are generally open to any interested persons and visitors are welcome to attend.

Membership information may be obtained from any chapter member or Virginia Byars, president, or Gloria Hampton, membership committee chairman.

Timely and informative programs are presented at chapter meetings each month with topics including items of general interest to professional women. The 1974-75 club year promises to be most worthwhile with a series of workshops for chapter members being planned to feature Dr. Jack L. Nance, Coordinator of Human Relations Studies for Department of Secondary and Higher Education at West Texas State University, and Mary Lou Farnum, Assistant Dean for Women at WTSU. The workshop series will be a self-improvement program for the secretary dealing with having more self-confidence in her position.

A primary goal of the NSA is the CPS (certified professional secretary) program which strives to improve secretarial personnel by giving specific direction to an educational program and by providing a means of measuring the extent of professional development. The CPS promotes professional identity of the exceptional secretary and provides secretaries with the assurance which comes from having attained a professional educational standard.

Those with CPS certification must successfully complete an examination which is developed and administered by the Institute of Certifying Secretaries, a department of the National Secretaries Association International. CPS certificates are issued to both men and women and applicants must not Clublife for Canyon women is beginning again and this year the Canyon News is giving brief reports on the coming club year through the courtesy of the various club presidents. Information regarding the clubs will be featured for the next few weeks as clubs resume their programs and meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Toy Price

60th Anniversary Observed With Family Dinner Event

Mr. and Mrs. Toy Price were honored Sunday, September 1, with a family dinner in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Downing, 4 miles north of the city.

A silver tray was presented to the Prices by the Downing grandchildren at the dinner which was in observance of their 60th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Price and the former Berta Lee Burrus were married August 29, 1914 in Story, Oklahoma and moved near Wildorado, Texas a few months later. He farmed in the Palo Duro Community, south of Wildorado, for 53 years before moving to Canyon in 1968. They make their home now at 1403 Creekmore.

Children of the Prices include Mrs. Neil Downing of Canyon; Mrs. Glyn Persons of Lynwood, Washington; Tuman Price of Alvin; and Pat Price of Gainesville. They also have eleven grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

Concert Campaign Begins For 74-75 Membership

Canyon Community Concerts will conduct a membership drive in the city Sept. 16-21 with headquarters located at Southwestern Public Service building, 1608 4th Avenue.

New memberships will be taken from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the drive. Membership fees are $10 for adults; $5 for all full-time students including children through college age; and $30 for a family membership. Residents are reminded that memberships are available only during the drive and the local association has a reciprocity agreement with area cities, including Borger, Clovis, Lubbock and Hereford where those with memberships may attend other concerts in addition to the three planned to be staged in Canyon.

Violinist Stephanie Chase will be the first community concert performer slated to appear in Canyon on Nov. 26. She began her appearances on the concert stage at the age of nine and was a first place winner in the Chicago Symphony Youth Competition performing four times there. At age seven, Miss Chase was a three time winner of the Ted Mack Amateur Hour and was a Peabody Award winner when eight years old. During 1973-74, she was a guest artist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and has performed over 40 concerts across the nation including recitals and with various orchestras.

The second program of the CCCA series will be Daniel Llorca, a solo marionettist, who has performed on four world tours and ten international invitational festivals in Europe with adult marionette theatre audiences. An American, Llorca was acclaimed as "the summit of marionette art" for the Braunschweiger Woche des Internationalen Puppenspiels which includes only invitation artists. Llorca's program will be Jan. 6, 1975.

Paul Kuentz, conductor, and the Chamber Orchestra of Paris will be the third program of the series in Canyon to appear here Jan. 31, 1975.

The CCA membership campaign will begin with a workers' dinner Sept. 16 at 6 p.m. and those planning to attend should contact Mrs. Haraden, dinner chairman, 655-3100, by Sept. 13 for confirmation.

Membership renewals will be taken for current members who participated last season. Each worker should turn in renewal members either at the dinner meeting or at the first days new member campaign here Sept. 16. Additional information may be gained by calling Mrs. Joe Findley, 655-4405, or Mrs. Dan Sanders, 655-3174.

Rotary Gov. Will Visit Club Here

Rotary Dist. Gov. Dr. Emil Prohl of Tahoka will make his official visit to the Canyon Rotary Club the night of Sept. 16 and then will attend the regular club meeting at noon Sept. 17 at the community center here.

During his visit to the local club, Prohl will discuss the program for the coming year for the 46 clubs in his district, which covers most of Northwest Texas.

A retired physician, Prohl is a native of Port Arthur and is a 1935 graduate of Baylor University medical school. He built and operated the Tahoka Clinic and Hospital and practiced in Tahoka from 1937 to 1972, when he retired.

VFW Auxiliary To Host School Today

Members of 10 auxiliaries to Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts in the Texas Panhandle will attend a school of instruction for this district today sponsored and hosted by the auxiliary of Lucius Penick Post 5681 in Canyon.

The school will be at noon at the post headquarters on VFW Road north of the city.

Honored guests at the school will include Mrs. Cecil H. Rhoades, president of the Texas Ladies Auxiliary, Mrs. Fred Williams, state chief-of-staff, and Mrs. Florene Leinen, president of District 13.

Lunch will be served at the school to members from Paducah, Hereford, Littlefield, Plainview, Wellington, Tulia, Lockney, Childress, Dimmitt and Canyon.

Hearing Held On Interstate

It was smooth sailing Thursday night for the proposed design of Interstate 27 which will by-pass Canyon and Happy on its route to Lubbock from Amarillo during a public hearing held by the Texas Highway Department.

Department officials expect the same smooth sailing — barring financial shoals — for the project and anticipate letting bids for construction of the super highway in December 1975.

The public hearing Thursday night, attended by about 200 persons, stood in sharp contrast with a similar hearing held in 1971 which drew an angry and agitated Canyon crowd vocal against routing the highway to the east of the city.

No such heated debate erupted Thursday and only two complaints were heard by spectators. The Canyon and Amarillo chambers of commerce went on record favoring the proposed design of the structure, a design which allows for three interchanges which would allow traffic to leave the highway to come to Canyon or Palo Duro Canyon or other sites in Randall County.

The proposed highway runs from just north of Buffalo Bowl on U.S. 87 to just south of Happy in Swisher County and travels the bulk of that distance along Washington Street (FM 1541).

Cost of the project is estimated to be about $30 million. Ninety percent of the cost will be borne by the federal government and 10 percent will come from state coffers.

Much of the public hearing was devoted to an explanation to families in Randall County which will be displaced by right-of-way acquisition for the highway of the prices they can expect for their property.

A THD official explained that state appraisers will eye the property to be purchased for right-of-way and will figure the fair market value of the property for payment by the state to the property owners.

In the event, however, that the fair market value of the property — particularly a house — will not provide for the purchase of a comparably equipped home in the area, the highway department will provide supplemental money for the home purchase.

Appraisal of property is to begin within a few months and the state will begin acquiring land by July 1, 1975.

But, before the appraisal can begin the record of the public hearing must be sent to Austin and Washington for approval by state and federal highway officials, once the design is finally okayed, the mechanics of appraising will begin.

Jack Light, engineer with the THD, explained that the interstate will include 10 interchanges beginning with the interchange just south of Rockwell Road which will separate the by-pass from the current U.S. 87 road bed.

Another interchange will be at Hunsley Road, as that road is projected to extend to the east to meet Washington Street. And, another will be at the interstate's juncture with Texas 217 or Palo Duro Highway east of Canyon.

The placement of the interchanges for easy access to Canyon, Buffalo Bowl and Palo Duro Canyon State Park was praised by John O. Childs, president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce during a brief speech during the hearing.

Childs termed the access to Canyon "sufficient" and thanked the highway department for their energetic pursuit of interchanges around the city.

A letter from Brac Biggers, president of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, also approved the design as proposed.

Sherwood Blasdel, who lives northeast of Canyon, told the highway department representatives their planned route of the interstate to the northeast could provide problems for future ZTA Alums Host District Prexy

Mrs. Henry Graesser of Dallas was in the Canyon-Amarillo area recently visiting with Zeta Tau Alpha alumnae and active chapters. Mrs. Graesser is the district president of North Division XIV sorority affairs.

Arriving Wednesday, Mrs. Graesser was treated to a luncheon in Amarillo and attended rush parties of Delta Eta chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority at West Texas State University. She also visited the active chapter's campus unit.

Thursday morning Mrs. Graesser was special guest for a tea in the home of Mrs. Keith Jones at Canyon. Local alumnae members attended the informal affair as tea, coffee, fruit-frosted rolls and melon balls were served.

The visiting guest was entertained at a brunch gathering Friday morning in the Amarillo home of Mrs. Don Graham.

Miss Hospitality Is Canyon Beauty

Cindi Kuhlman was recently honored as "Miss Hospitality" in a contest sponsored jointly by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Convention and Visitor Activities in that city.

Miss Kuhlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kuhlman, was the first place winner in the contest which is a new promotion for Amarillo to recognize business employees who are outstanding in the field of courtesy to locals as well as tourist trade.

She was presented with a number of gifts including cash awards, gift certificates from various city department stores, week-end entertainment and housing, a variety of meals about town and a specially engraved plaque denoting the honor.

Miss Kuhlman graduated from Canyon High School in 1971 and completed a course at International School of Beauty and Hair Design. She was employed in beauty work for two years prior to assuming her present position with Quality Inn, Amarillo, where she is a desk clerk.

Visitin' And Readin'

By LORENA MILLER

Visited with a neighbor, John Schramm, last week at the News office who said that surely "summer must be returning" or else the plants in his backyard have been fooled by the rains, a few warm days, and the chilly snap. He had in hand sprigs from a lilac bush (resplendent with its orchid blossoms); a twig from a concord grape vine (filled with its minute budding grape clusters); and a blossoming plum branch.

I really didn't notice my own tomato plants in the flower bed — it was too chilly to venture out early in the week!

Well, here we are past the Labor Day with lots of rest and a good deal of television watching to raise those funds to hopefully find a cure for muscular dystrophy. Jerry Lewis and "his kids" were lifted to their goal and beyond by all the fine folks across the nation doing their part with pledges to the cause!

The Tri-State Fair is just around the corner again — just a few more weeks. Guess you have been reading that several music shows will again be featured at the "fair barn." Mel Tillis and Tanya Tucker will sing for the crowds on Sept. 16-17; with Charlie Rich singing from "behind closed doors" at showtimes

Chamber To Eye Bike Race Date

Directors of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce are to meet at 7 p.m. Monday to set the dates for several functions scheduled later this fall.

Directors will set plans for their annual bicycle race, which this year will be co-sponsored by the Canyon Police Department. The race is tentatively set for later this month around the courthouse square downtown.

They are also expected to discuss possible dates for an annual businessman-new faculty luncheon to welcome new public school and university faculty to the city.

development of a valley in that area which he cited as an ideal location for a housing development.

Blasdel complained that noise would be a problem as the engine racket from large trucks reverberated off the valley walls.

E.K. Williamson objected to the configuration of several of the proposed interchanges, complaining that in the future Texas would need all the acres of land it could get for farming.

He said the design of the interchanges could squander a land resource which would be of vital use to raise food in the future.

BSP Chapter Begins Year

Alpha Theta Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority held a "beginning day" session in late August at the home of Mary Alice Hines, president, to outline plans and projects for the coming year.

Cindy Stevenson, yearbook chairman, presented last year's scrapbook to Judy Hill, outgoing president, at the meeting. After business was attended to, members of the sorority were served refreshments and viewed the scrapbook.

The chapter's new yearbooks were issued to members during the meeting and feature a burlap covering with crewel embroidery insignia depicting the year's theme "Stairway to Happiness."

Yearbook chairman, Naja Maxwell, distributed the books and commended Martha Bethel for the original art division sheets.

Next meeting for the chapter will be a program "definition of happiness" to be given Sept. 9 and a box supper for members and their husbands to be held in Palo Duro Canyon on Saturday, Sept. 14.

LaCasa Residents Receive "Friends"

LaCasa Canyon Nursing Home and residents received a group of "friends" who formed an informal voluntary organization to aid the home and residents with their own available free time, according to Stele Williams, recreation director.

Nine Canyon women met with Mrs. Williams in her home Thursday morning to discuss the possible formation of an auxiliary group to aid the home.

At the meeting it was discussed that "patients at the home should be returned to community life where feasible" and auxiliary activities should include a program such as "adopt-a-grandparent" to remember the senior citizens on birthdays and other special events. In addition the "friends" will arrange for patient activities and entertainment where possible.

Meeting with Mrs. Williams Thursday were Mesdames Norma Price, Claudine Lehman, Monte Chandler, Lewis Tuck, Don Usery, David Kindisbacher, J.D. Brock, Troy Collier and Evelyn Meyers. Others interested in participating may contact Mrs. Williams at the home between 10 a.m. and noon, 655-4352, or at her home, 655-3015.

City Faces Light Agenda

Canyon city commissioners face a light agenda Monday night as they are scheduled to discuss an ordinance okaying issuance of certificates of obligation for the first portion of construction of a new city hall.

Certificates for about $16,000 will be issued to cover work already completed by Contractor Paige & Wirtz of Amarillo.

Other items on the agenda include consideration of a recommendation for a change in zoning for property and the naming of new members of the city Housing Authority.

Commissioners meet at 7 p.m. Monday at the community center.

BYKOTA BAPTIST CHURCH in Amarillo will be the setting for the marriage of Miss Kathy Gail Walker and Greg Alvin Lehnick being planned for 7:30 p.m. October 25. Miss Walker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Walker, Jr. of 2737 Palm in Amarillo and is a graduate of Palo Duro High School presently employed in the receiving department for Sears-Roebuck Company in Amarillo. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis A. Lehnick, 2005 1st Avenue, Canyon. He graduated from Canyon High School and is employed with Dobbs Corporation in Canyon.

THE ENGAGEMENT and forthcoming marriage of Miss Linda Sue Irwin and Martin Lawrence Beagle is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Irwin, northwest of the city. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Beagle of 2711 Second Avenue, Canyon. Wedding vows are being planned for October 5 at the First Presbyterian Church in Canyon. Miss Irwin, a graduate of Canyon High School, attended West Texas State University and is presently employed as a bookkeeper with Irwin Greenhouse. The prospective bridegroom graduated from Dumas High School and earned his degree in business administration from WTSU. He is presently self-employed as an electrical engineer in the Kansas area.

Stewarts Tell Son's Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dale Stewart of 107 LaFiesta, Canyon announce the August 27 birth of a son, Joseph Dale, who weighed 7 pounds, one ounce and measured 20 1/2 inches in length on arrival at Neblett Memorial Hospital in Canyon.

Stewart is employed with the Pantex Plant and his wife is an employee of Levi Strauss in Amarillo. They have two older daughters, Denise, 7, and Stephanie, 4.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Powers of Spearman are the maternal grandparents.

ORAL CONTRACEPTIVES

Have you wondered why you need a prescription for these pills — or why your doctor restricts the number of months you may be "on them"?

Well, of course, he knows that these hormones are not entirely harmless. For instance, any of the following "over-the-counter" medications could possibly affect, or be affected by oral contraceptives:

Antihistamines — Sedatives, tranquilizers
Insulin — Even certain vitamins!

So, don't take any medicines without being sure. If in doubt, ask your doctor or your pharmacist.

Palisades Palaver

By MILDRED TURNER
IT HAS BEEN so long since I visited with you, I almost don't know where we were. I have sure appreciated the calls. I have missed you also.

Oh yes, I was doing beans and since I've been on squash, peas, carrots, okra, cucumbers, corn peppers, chickens and hot sauce sample.

Our canteloupes have done real well this year. They have been so sweet and good that we have eaten them all the time and never tired of them. My turnips are up. I've had calls on what kind of spray I've used. Mostly I've used a spray made of garlic, onions and a little Joy (dish soap) to help it to stay on the leaves. You have to use it often during rainy weather to keep the smell effective. It smells horrible in the kitchen, especially early in the morning.

Had a call for Nell's squash relish recipe but have neglected getting it. I have Lorain's so don't know if they are the same.

One reason I had not bothered Nell Moore, she and Jarriel have been helping the Booths roof their house. While in the garden, I've really enjoyed their music and laughter. They had quite a joke going about Nell's hat. (I like the new hat). The only worry I had was that some of them might get to dancing to that lively music and dance right off of the roof.

Carolyn Bailey and Judy Webb have been making pickles and hot sauce.

ACCORDING TO JACK Haimes at the Mini-Mart, Robert has his master's, received at West Texas State University, and will be teaching at Okinawa this year. Pokey is singing quite a bit now and has his eye on a pretty girl. Oh, . . .

MONDAY THE DAN Baileys and the Orville Ladehoffs took in the rodeo at Boy's Ranch. The event was polished off with a barbecue and the trimmings.

THANK YOU, THANK YOU for the corn, Grace and Orville Ladehoff.

The Ladehoffs had excitement at their house last week as two foreign exchange students visited them. Takayuki Tsuchida, age 24, and Takanori Okano, 23, of Japan, were among a group of 130 chosen from 600 applicants to come to America.

They landed at New York around August 9th and were divided into groups which toured the U.S. by bus. There were about 15 who spent their time in the Panhandle. Takayuki and Takanori are rice farmers, speak broken English, were shown around the fields, and then shown the equipment of this area.

Among the places of interest they were taken to the museum and the Palo Duro Canyon. Five other groups had also been to the Palo Duro. They plan to see Grand Canyon before returning around Sept. 19.

A frequent remark was "Everything in America is so b. . . i. . g!" Grace says they told her that Japan has the largest and finest train system in the world. I have also heard of this train system. According to the Ladehoffs, there was never a dull moment and they enjoyed having the students very much.

LILLIE AKIN OF Prescott, Ariz., was a recent visitor in the Jack Inman's home. She is Lorain's mother.

RECENTLY RECEIVED AN invitation to the wedding of D'Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Cheshire and Chris Seitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Seitz of Palisades, on August 31, at the First Baptist Church in Amarillo.

GARLAND AND I cancelled some of our activities during the last half of August because we had some very delightful company visiting from San Diego, Calif. They were my nephew, Jimmy Lindsey, (19) (Weldon's son) and his friend Russell Alford (18).

While here, they went down to "Lindsey Hide Away" (Tenkiller Lake), with Clay Lindsey (my brother from Hereford), Gene Webb and families for a few days. When Gene and Clay returned to get their families in school, the boys remained at the Hide Away a few more days. They fished and goofed around (you know what boys do!) for a couple of days. The boys visited, spent time at Hereford and in Palisades, fishing, playing pool, riding cycles, camped out in the Palo Duro once.

On the way out they camped out in Grand Canyon and various interesting places. They attended church with us and spent considerable time reading the Bible and discussing it together. They are remarkable young men and we thoroughly enjoyed them.

I WAS TALKING to Bill Tucker at the gate the other day and he says they have had his daughter, Sandra Starr, and grandson, Shawn, of Lubbock, as recent visitors.

RECEIVED A GREETING card from the Molyneux and Seitz while they were in Tres Ritos sightseeing and having a great time. They went turquoise shopping at Taos. It was a hot day here and when I received the lovely card from the mountains it was almost like feeling a cool breeze!

Thank you, Allen Strecker, for the apples. I made a big apple pie which we sure enjoyed.

Did you hear Streak Vaughn as he yelled and asked if we thought it was going to snow? We have sure enjoyed this cool weather recently. Two nights we put a log on. We are also very, very thankful for the rain, every drop of it.

Garland and I had a lovely outing with Floyd and Peggy Oliver on their boat at Lake Meredith. We went boat riding, ran the trout lines, anchored out in the lake and fished. We brought food and enjoyed the lovely atmosphere. Peggy and Garland both caught one crappie each. It rained us out about 1:00 and we returned. We had a bushel of fun and plan to do it again.

Floyd and Garland fished a little Saturday night. About nine I went down with sandwiches and lemonade. The only bites they got were mosquitoes, but I enjoyed the lemonade and the lovely moonlight with the cricket concert.

County Budget Due Scrutiny

The tentative 1975 budget for Randall County will be presented for final perusal by county commissioners at their regular meeting at 1 p.m. Monday in the courthouse here.

Commissioners are expected to set the date for a public hearing and final approval of the budget during the session.

The proposed budget, prepared by County Judge Woody Pond and Auditor Betty Hodges, calls for revenues totalling $1,311,669 and expenditures totalling $1,341,987. The budget reflects an anticipated deficit of $30,000.

In other business on the Monday agenda, commissioners will meet in executive session with Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, to discuss personnel. Mrs. Bruse has gone into executive session with commissioners several times in recent months to discuss personnel in her office.

Marion Bruce, chairman of the Democratic Party in Randall County, will meet with commissioners to discuss county tax assessments, according to the agenda. Bruce was highly critical of the operations of the county tax office during recent board of equalization hearings, and complained of the assessments on his property in particular.

Becky Hall, home demonstration agent for the county, will discuss a request for travel expenses for her attendance at the National Home Economics Association meeting in Minneapolis.

Hereford Man Dies In Crash Near City Fri.

One Hereford man was killed and another injured about 5:35 a.m. Friday in a one-car accident just west of the Canyon city limits on U.S. 60.

George W. Stringer, 47, of Route 3 Hereford, was killed in the crash. Injured was Jerry Kent Brock, 18, of Hereford, driver of the vehicle.

Highway Patrolman Ralph Pettigo of Hereford said the late-model car was traveling east on U.S. 60 when the driver swerved to avoid hitting a small animal in the road. The car left the highway and rammed into a tree in the center median of the highway, demolishing the vehicle and killing Stringer.

He said the two men were employees of Fish Construction Co. of Dallas and were enroute to Borger to their jobs.

Brock was apparently recovering from an accident he was involved in about three weeks ago.

He was taken to Neblett Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Landrum Is Honored

Mrs. Emily Landrum of Canyon was one of four women honored Saturday in Amarillo for her recent completion of requirements for the Certified Public Secretary degree.

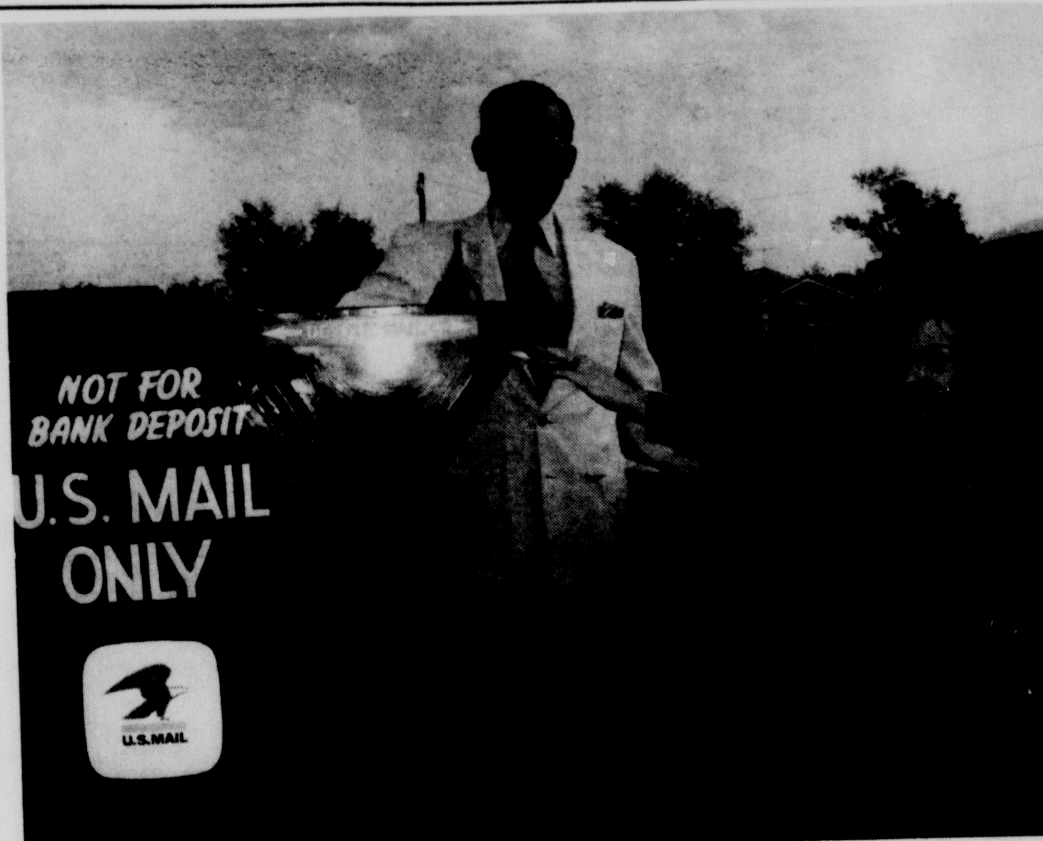

The president of the Texas Louisiana Division of the Certified Public Secretaries International, Helen Timmerman, presented honors to Mrs. Landrum during ceremonies.

Mrs. Landrum, a secretary for the Canyon Independent School District, received her CPS recently after passing extensive tests.

Visiting

Shorty and Norene King spent the Labor Day weekend in Denver visiting with children and grandchildren there.

Local Residents Have Japanese Visitors

Paige Lamb, a secretary at First National Bank, is first to use the courtesy mail box placed just outside the bank building here for use by Canyon residents. Canyon Postmaster LeeRoy Moreland watches the inaugural letter. The box, placed just behind the drive-up service windows at the bank, is the only box in Canyon which allows drive-side service from automobiles.

Band Seeks Names For Calendar Project

The Annual Band Parents Community Birthday Calendar project is being kicked off this week-end according to John King, Canyon High School Band director.

According to King, members of bands in Canyon High School, Canyon Junior High, Rex Reeves Elementary and Gene Howe Elementary schools will be soliciting orders for the calendars and names and organization meetings to be printed on spaces on the calendar.

A cash prize will be given in each band to the member who turns in the largest number of orders. The drive will last through Sept. 13 for the members.

PTA Begins Year's Activities

The PTA will have its first meeting of the year September 9 at 7 p.m. in the auditorium at the Rex Reeves Elementary School.

During the meeting, parents will be given a chance to become better acquainted with their child's teacher. Also during the meeting, parents will have an opportunity to sign up their child for the $5 attendance award which will be given away later in the year.

A table will be set up Monday night to collect PTA dues which are $1 per person. The class with the highest percentage of memberships paid will get a coke party. Deadline for the contest is October 15. Parents may join PTA anytime during the year according to Margaret Rawlings, president of the Canyon PTA. Membership may also be sent in by mail to PTA Treasure, Box 393, Canyon.

Programs for the coming year for the local PTA are "Back to School Night" on September 9, "His First Cigarette" on November 4, "Corporal Punishment, Pros and Cons" on February 3, "Emergency 77" on March 3 and a kindergarten program on May 5.

Plainsmen Shoot Down Eagles 34-14 In First Game Of Season

Canyon's Eagles were shot down by Lubbock Monterey Plainsmen Friday night 34-14.

The Eagles were slow in starting during the first half but during the second half, they showed that they can be district 1-AAA champions.

Canyon's bad luck started when they lost the toss and had to kick off to the Plainsmen. Monterey took the kick-off after an off-side penalty against the Plainsmen which allowed Canyon's Jim Ward to kick off again this time from the 45 yard line. Monterey was unable to get a drive started as they threw three incomplete passes.

Following the 43 yard punt by Monterey's Mike Anderson, who averaged 43 yards per punt during the night, Canyon took possession of the ball in their own end of the playing field.

On the second play from the line of scrimmage, Garre LaGrone, quarterback for the Eagles ran 12 yards for a first down. On the next play, Canyon fumbled the ball but recovered their own fumble. Canyon, unable to move the ball, was forced to punt.

Rusty Holliday booted only a 17 yard punt. Holliday averaged 37.6 yards per punt during the game.

Monterey was unable to get anything going as the Canyon defense held fast. Steve McCormick sacked the quarterback, Scott Gardner, behind the line on the second down and was also instrumental in holding off the other attacks from the Plainsmen on the second series of plays by Monterey.

Canyon took the ball after a 33 yard punt by Monterey. With the ball on the 40 yard line in Canyon's end of the playing field, the Eagles fumbled a hand-off which Monterey recovered. This was the only Eagle fumble recovered by Monterey during the night.

The fumble recovery set up the first touchdown for Monterey. On the first two plays from the line of scrimmage, Monterey's Ricky Keith ran for a total of nine yards. On the next four plays, Joel Acosta was the ground gainer as he moved the ball from the 49 yard line to the 26 in Canyon's end of the playing field.

Keith found a wide open hole on the next play from scrimmage and galloped the 26 yards needed for the first TD of the game. The extra point was good and the Plainsmen led 7-0.

Monterey kicked to the Eagles. Craig Johnson, who gained a total of 126 yards for his effort Friday night, carried the ball from the three yard line to the 19. A 15 yard punt was tacked on to Johnson's run and the Eagles took the ball on their own 34 yard line.

The first quarter ended with the Eagles unable to mount a drive. In the second quarter, the Eagles punted a 46 yarder to Monterey. They took the ball on the 24 yard line. Two plays later, pass interference was called on the Eagles and the ball was placed on the 39 yard line. Keith was the only Monterey player to be called on to run during this series. On the first play following the pass interference call, he ran 20 yards for a first down placing the ball on the 43 yard line in Canyon's end of the field.

Monterey was unable to move the ball but two yards during the next three plays and were forced to punt. They punted to the Eagles and the ball went into the end zone.

After a gain of only 5 yards from the 20 yard line in two plays, LaGrone attempted a pass which was intercepted by Monterey. Monterey took the ball on the Eagle 28 yard line. Three plays later, Keith ran the final nine yards needed for the TD. With the extra point good, the Plainsmen led 14-0.

Johnson took the Monterey kick-off from the two yard line to the 22 where the Eagles moved the ball on carries by Ward, Johnson and LaGrone but only to the 29 yard line. On an attempted punt, the snap was fumbled and Monterey took possession of the ball on the Eagle 23 yard line.

Gardner, Plainsmen quarterback, threw to Glenn Stallings for the third touchdown of the evening. The pass play covered 23 yards.

The point after attempt was good and Monterey led 21 to 0.

On the next series of plays for the Eagles, they were forced to punt after being unable to get beyond the 31 yard line on their own end of the field. Canyon punted with 1:01 left in the half. A roughing the kicker penalty against Monterey gave the Eagles new life as they received a first down on the penalty. The Eagles moved the ball to the Monterey 35 yard line but just as the half ended, Monterey intercepted a LaGrone pass in the end zone to stop the biggest Canyon threat of the first half.

In the second half, Monterey kicked to Canyon. Canyon was unable to gain a first down and was forced to punt setting up the fourth Monterey touchdown. Monterey took the ball on the Canyon 48 yard line.

Keith was the only Plainsman used in the five play drive that led to the next Monterey touchdown. Monterey led in the game 27 to 0.

With 7:42 left in the third quarter, the Eagles took the ball on their 20 yard line. Unable to pick up but two yards they were forced to punt. Monterey kicked the ball back to Canyon after three unsuccessful pass attempts.

Taking the ball on the three yard line, the Eagles began a ground consuming, time consuming drive which led to their first touchdown of the night. LaGrone carried the ball on the first play from scrimmage for six yards. On the next play, LaGrone again ran the ball to the 30 yard line. Johnson picked up one yard. LaGrone, Adrian Foil and Johnson plus two Monterey penalties moved the ball to the 38 yard line in Monterey's end of the field. A 25 yard loss on a fumble, left the Eagles with third down and 27 yards needed for the first.

Foil carried the ball 23 of the needed yards and a 10 yard pass play from LaGrone to Kenny Basinger gave the Eagles the needed first down. After Ward and Foil carried the ball to the 12 yard line, Johnson scored. Ward kicked the extra point and the score was 28-7.

Taking the Canyon kick-off, only the second kick-off of the night for the Eagles, Keith ran the ball from the 20 to the 39. Malcolm Ward carried the ball for the Plainsmen in the next three plays to the Eagle 12 yard line where Acosta carried the pigskin in for the final Monterey score. The PAT was not good and the score was 34 to 7.

After Lubbock Monterey kicked to Canyon and a Canyon punt, Canyon again got the ball on the 15 yard line. Monterey had been unable to move the ball and gave up the ball on downs.

With 3:27 to go in the game, Ward carried the ball to the 20 yard line. Ward again carried the pigskin on the next play and picked up 10 yards more. Canyon was able to move the ball to the Monterey 42 yard line with 55 seconds left in the game. A pass interference call on Monterey gave Canyon the ball on the 13 yard line. Johnson ran the needed 13 yards for the final TD of the night. The PAT was good and the score was 34-14.

Canyon tried an onside kick but to no avail as Monterey just sat on the ball till the final gun.

LaGrone tried 10 passes and completed two for a total of 55 yards. Johnson led in yardage with 126 or an average of 7.9 per carry. LaGrone averaged 4.8 per carry during the game and Ward averaged 3.9 per carry.

Ward had a total of 58 yards for the night.

The Eagles plowed out 368 yards for the night. Monterey managed only 319. The Eagles got 55 yards in the air while Monterey got only 40.

Others adding to the Eagle yardage were Foil with 51 yards, Hoss Ratliff with 38 yards, Basinger with 27 yards.

Cowboys Bucked Off

Happy Cowboys were bucked off by the Claude Mustangs in a 120 football game played in Claude Friday night.

Happy had the ball on the Claude goal line twice but were unable to score.

Jimmy Ward, number 40 for the Canyon Eagles, plows his way on a short yardage gain. Ward carried the pigskin for 58 yards during Friday night's game against Lubbock Monterey at Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium. The Eagles lost in the contest 34-14.

J V Wins First

Ronnie Whitten scored three touchdowns to give the Canyon High School Junior Varsity the winning edge as they downed the Friona JVs in Thursday night's game held in Canyon. Canyon won 21-6.

Friona managed to score only one touchdown which came on one second left on the clock.

Ricky Cooper, who also quarterbacked the Canyon JV, was in the groove as he converted three point-after attempts. Randy Langen shared the quarterbacking responsibilities with Cooper.

Bob Schneider, coach for the Canyon JVs, felt that the JV offense should have moved the ball better and scored more. He stated that the junior varsity let down during the second half. The JV scored two touchdowns the first half and only one during the second half.

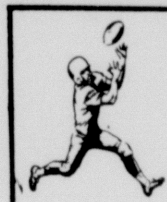

Schneider said that the team would be working on pass blocking to correct several errors found during the Thursday night game.

Schneider stated that the team was not in as good a physical condition as he had hoped for. He said that the team would need to put a lot of things together for the next game.

Coaches were pleased with the offensive play of Whitten, Darrell Chandler and Charles Shannon. Chandler and Shannon are both offensive tackles.

On defense, the coaches watched with approval the play of Chandler, at defensive end, and Clifford Adams, guard, Matt Madewell and John Prater both had interceptions during the game.

The JVs will play Borger next Thursday night here at 5:30 p.m.

Sideline

Views

By JIM ROGERS

Craig Johnson, member of the Canyon High School varsity Eagles, was a life saver in two areas during the first scrimmage game for the Eagles. Not only did Johnson score the only TD of the night but he also fixed a non working part of the bus in which the team was riding home.

If Johnson cannot fix the bus next time at least he does have speed that will enable him to run for help.

A number of groups are organizing to aid in boosting the spirit of the Buffaloes of WTSU. It is hoped that these groups will function during the entire year and not drop out if the Buffs repeat last year's lean record.

The Buffs have been picked next to the cellar by the sports writers who traveled the Missouri Valley circuit recently. At least the Buffs were not on the bottom. It seems that other sports writers across the country are coming around to the thinking of this writer. If you will recall, we have picked the Buffs to finish third in the MVC race.

The Dallas Cowboys did not look like a team hoping to get contracts with the WFL during the Thursday night nation-wide televised game in which they played the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Cowboys looked bad. It almost makes one want to investigate the play of the Houston Texans of the WFL. They seem to be doing as well or better than any other professional football team in Texas.

There seems to be so much tension between players and management in Dallas. It was surfacing long before the NFL player strike pulled off prior to the start of and during the early days of this season.

Tom Landry, who will be offered a life-time contract following the end of this season, has been with Dallas since its start in pro ball. Landry has not been the hero of many of his players. He is a good coach, he would have to be to have been in the play-offs during the last few years. What will it take to put the Cowboys back in winning ways? From the looks of Thursday night's game, a little more practice and holding on to good players like Otto Stowe, who was traded this week, might help.

Just because the Eagles dropped the season opener to Monterey is no reason for Canyon fans to give up the ship. The Eagles still stand a good chance of having a winning season.

Monterey, the largest high school in the state of Texas, has a lot of talent this year but so does Canyon's Eagles. The Eagles overcame first game jitters for the second half and played an outstanding ball game.

The Eagles are going to be strong contenders in the days to come. One good point for the Eagles is that they sustained no serious injuries. If this can keep up, then the Eagles will have a lot of experience going into district 1-AAA play which starts in October.

Sophomores Lose

Canyon High School's sophomore football team was defeated in their first game of the season by the Tulia junior varsity. Tulia won 14-0.

According to Barry Huey, coach for the sophomore team, the last quarter of the game was the team's weakest point. Huey said that the team was not in good condition for four full quarters of play.

Huey stated that offensively Canyon got out of its own end of the playing field only during the first quarter.

Tulia's two TDs came off of difficulties for the Canyon punting team. The first TD in the fourth quarter for Tulia came when Tulia defense managed to block a Canyon punt and they were able to cover the fumble on the half yard line in Canyon's end of the field. They easily moved the ball the needed half yard for the TD.

The second TD came when the Canyon punter booted a six yard punt which went only to the Canyon 20 yard line.

Fish And Fowl

By GARY CONNER

Rain—a word that carries a lot of weight in the Texas Panhandle. Possibly more valuable than your money with each passing day. It means many things to many people. To the housewife, a lower water bill from not having to water a starved lawn; to the farmer, at least a sigh of relief; to the people at Hunsley Hills Golf Course, the difference between life and death of the course; and lastly to the sportsman, the hunter, a chance for some above average shooting this winter.

Exactly what it means is that the migrating waterfowl might get here earlier this year, of all this cool, wet weather is an indication of an early winter, and on arrival will have plenty of lakes to rest on between trips to the table. Everyone knows that, normally, the prairie Canadas do not arrive in large numbers until we are a month into the season anyway. It means the deer will have fields to feed in when the winter makes food scarce in the canyon bottoms. The quail and pheasant will have better cover and food, including forage and cultivated crops. The antelope will find grazing easier to find. The doves, well, they are a big question mark, no matter what. The hunter who can pick the right watering hole to way-lay doves will be a genius.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, as with any organization, is as good in its work as the people it has employed. Bob West, waterfowl biologist, stationed in Canyon is a good representative of the ability and good work of this government office. He works 12 months of the year in maintaining and improving the sport of waterfowling in the state of Texas. He flies extensively in his research and has done waterfowl work on the Canadian prairie. Over the summer, he has been studying the population, as well as incubations, of ducks that spend the summer in the Panhandle. This program, as well as others, will be made public through later articles.

The Aoudad sheep of the Panhandle is fast becoming known as an elusive game animal. Hunters come from all parts of the country to hunt for a week and most go home happy knowing they have been on a hunt, a hard hunt. The Aoudad is hard to locate, hard to see, and hard to stalk.

The Park and Wildlife Department did an exceptional job of photographing Aoudads last spring on a good friend of mine's ranch near Quitaque, Texas. The pictures were for an article done in their magazine this summer, I believe the July issue.

There are some changes in the point system duck limit this winter as well as the goose limit. Neither is enough change for alarm after you consider the goose limit, for example. For as long as I can remember, the statement concerning geese has stated that Snows, Rosses, Whitefronts, and Canada could be taken in a day. They could have also said Brant or European Skunk goose, but the fact is that 99 per cent of the geese that winter here now are short grass prairie Canadas, and we can still shoot two of them a day, so what the heck.

If anyone in the Canyon area is good at locating skunks, V.J. Duncan, who lives southwest of the city, is trying to organize a skunk hunt. Don't laugh, he has already talked a few others into going along. It all began when he asked me to guide the hunt for him.

TEXAS WATERFOWL has expanded service to include guided hunts for deer, Aoudad sheep and antelope, as well as waterfowl and pheasant hunts. Interested parties can get information by calling 655-9259, or by coming by 18 Greenwood, Hunsley Hills.
